It was baseball of the sandlots variety that the Cleveland club put up yester day afternoon against the Washington nthletes. The manner in which the ball was awatted-and particularly by the locals—and the splendid array of glittering errors gathered by the visitors made every "has been" ball player in the bleachers and grandstands recall the days when they were boys again, when one could call the sort of a ball one liked to swipe at and patiently walt at the plate until the other fellows' twirler sent

Notwithstanding that over 2,500 enthusiastic fans sat through four hours of base-ball, not a single soul thought of leaving the grounds until Umpire flart called the second game on account of darkness. It was too good a comedy to leave until the limit act and the chief funnikers, when the curtain was finally rung down. were too weak from their frantically fu-tile efforts to provide amusement for the suddence to even walk off the field. The chariot in which the visiting gladiators are wont to journey to the precinct of the town in which their tayern is located was driven over to the bench, where the discouraged and disheartened Spikers climbed in with great difficulty.

Two games were generously provided by the management for one admission, but had the playing been distributed over a week or so nobody would have objected to paying the ordinary tariff for merely three or four such innings as the Senators enjoyed in the fourth of the second game. The Little Potatoes Hard to Peel, the Sammy Dungan Juniors, and other popular local amateur organizations would actually have been ashamed to be considered in the same class with the Clevelands in this particular inning, when the Manning tribe, on two measily singles, made six runs. It should be explained in this connection, however, that besides the brace of hits secured by the locals the Spiders accumulated something like five errors, Pitcher Annie Moore collected two wild pitches. Catcher Wood loomed un quite prominently with a passed ball, and two of the Washingtons were presented with passes to first by Mr. Moore, who was on the card as pitcher, although he did not do much in the twirling line. As a matter of true baseball history, Mr. Moore was much in the nature of a mark for the batters on Mr. Manning's pay roll, and a number of them seemed to take fiendish delight in cracking the sphere in every conceivable location of the big yard. Not only did Pitcher Moore come in for an uncommon share of punishment, but his predecessors in the opening game, McNeal and Donovan, were likewise pelted with buse hits. McNeal, who is said to be a comer who was discovered up in the New York State League, became weary and disgusted with the treatme accorded him by the local men in th very first inning, when the Senators tro-ted around the circuit of bags seven time and finally gave up out of sheer fatigue. Then Mr. Donovan, who had been castin a chunky shadow out in the right gar den, came in and tried his hand at the pitching business. His success is best described by a glance at the score after the opening inning. Washington increase its record of runs by eleven more tallie a bounder of cold type this morning.

Umpire Hart again presided over the proceedings, and while on previous or casions his work may have been a little bit off color, his efforts to decide play were quite amusing. The visitors can in for a large share of Mr. Hart's erro and if there was a space in the reg tabulated score for the mistakes of the umpire, Hart would soon be missing from Ban Johnson's staff of unique umpires. First Baseman LaChance took a violent distilke to one of Bart's decisions at first, when Farrell was caught a few feet away from the plate on a throw from Pitcher Moore, and had there been another man on the vistors' bench capable of playing the initial sack, LaChance would have been given a chance to go way back and at down. But if he had been yanked out of the comedy the fun would have been brought to a sudden termination, and the spectators would have missed some rare

The Cleveland infield went to places every time a ball was hit in its direction. Beck, at second, showed an inclination to play football whenever the sphere came in his territory, and on one occasion he gave a splendid imitation of a long-haired youth trying to kick a goal from the field. Over at short field, McGuire, another kindergariner from the York State feil all over himself every time he had a chance to field the ball, and if his work, chance to field the bail, and if his work, together with that of the other men on the Cleveland side, who are recruits from this same league are good specimens of York State stars, Manager Manning had better flight shy of Schenectady and Herklimer, when he next goes scouting for ball players for the next year's Washington team. York State League bail may be all right in its own way, and while it provides an immense amount of tun for the spectators, and gives the bleacherites a chance to explode every once in a while and demonstrate their worth as foshers, it can never win games.

Washington at once took a commanding lead when the first performance opened, and before the end of the initial imning, had run up their record to the seven point. Not content, they went at Pitcher Donovan, and in the third and fourth innings increased their score a half dozen more runs while the next two succeeding insings brought up the local score to tighteen. Seven runs were secured by the visitors—two in the third, one in the eighth and four in the last gasp.

Pitcher Gear, who is also secretary of the Baseball Players Union, did the box work for the home club in the second game, and even if the visitors did get as many hits as we did, the run columns are totally unlike. Ours is as large and delightful to contemplate as a harvest moon, while the Spiders' is insignificant. Coughlin and Clingman scored in the second and Farrell and Dungan trotted over the rubber in the next inning. Weideon, Farrell, Dungan, Luskey, Grady and Clingman tallied in the fifth and then in the sixth Grady put the ball over the fence to the greet satisfaction of the crowd and himself. Wood hit a two-bagger in the fifth and scored on Pickering's single, and in the next inning Bradley and Harvey came home on hits by the latter and errors of Clingman and Farrell. It was too dark to play, according to Umpire Hart's vision, at the end of the sixth inning and the game was called. The Washington and Cleveland clubs will play a double header Monday. The first game will be called at 2:30 o'clock. Yesterday's scores follow:

BLUE AND GREY FOOTBALL

fore the pall cast over the popular college game by the death of one of Georgetown's crack players several years ago had been dispelled. He is well known in Washing-ton and possesses qualities which should make him an excellent coach. As a player his reputation is national. There have been few tackles in the annals of footbail who have ranked higher than Church, who was placed on the All-America team in 1899 by Caspar Whitney.

It is probable that Church's advent in the football world at Georgetown will cause a radical departure from the Penn-sylvania style of play in vogue there last year. At the conclusion of the season there was some dissatisfaction expressed at the methods of Dr. Bull, the famous Pennsylvania centre. Church will teach the Princeton system of play. The Pennsyivania style, once most effective, has during the last year or two come to be regarded as out of date. Most of the can didates for the Georgetown team are light and fast, better adapated to the open Princeton game than the cumbersome and fast, better adapated to the open. Princeton game than the cumbersome "guards back" style of the game as expioited by the Red and Blue.

Captain, Barry has had the candidates out on the field at Georgetown for two days. Despite the fact that there are but few members of list year's team to form a aucieus around which to build an eleven, Barry takes a hopeful view of the feetball outlook. The old men who have donned uniforms again are Kearns and Seltz at guard, Mackay at centre, Buckley and Lynch at tackle, Reilly and Captain Barry at half back. The timber available for the vacant positions is of excellent quality. The squad, to which a number of additions are expected within the next few days, aow consists of the following; C. Seitz, J. Seitz, Cox, Snell, Thedieck, Byrnes, S. Edmonston, Graham, O. Shea, P. Laroussini, O'Hara, Fickling, Hayden, Kearns, Lynch, Buckley, Reilly, Canario, Barron, Mackay, Vandeventer, and Russell.

A training table will be started this week. The early practice will consist of light work until the men have rounded into the kind of shape that will stand the brunt of daily practice with the scrub, in the meantime, falling on the ball, kicking, catching, and passing, augmented by long runs to develop endurance, will be the menu of practice on Georgetown Field.

The schedule as far as it is now made the menu of practice on Georgetown Fleid.

The schedule as far as it is now made up is as follows, the first two games to be played at Annapolis and all the rest at Georgetown: October 5, Navai Academy; October 12, St. John's College; October 18, Western Maryland University; October 19, Virginia Polytechnic Institute; October 19, Virginia Polytechnic Institute; October 19, Virginia Polytechnic Institute; October 18, University of Virginia; November 16, University of Virginia; November 28, Lehigh University. A number of the vacant dates will be filled with games for which negotiations, are now pending.

Both men were out for blood and the contests wer In the final event Taylor had the sole, which gave him a great advantage The start was a spiendid one and Mc-2 Eachern shot to the front, taking the pole from his opponent before a lap had been ridden. The struggle which followed for the lead was a grand one, but the Canadian showed his heels to the cham-pion and lapped him before three miles had been ridden. Michael proved once more that he is the one peerless pace follower of the country. TENNIS CRACKS TO MEET.

Play for the District Championship to Begin September 30. Local racqueters are getting he trim for the last struggle of the year. The fourteenth annual tournament for the cham-pionship of the District of Columbia will open on Monday, September 20, at the courts of the Bachelors' Lawn Tennis Club on M Street northwest. It will conthrue until the contest has narrowed down to the finals between the best of the play-ers entered and John C. Davidson, the present champion of the District. E. E. Whiting has sent out to lovers of the game a circular containing information regarding the tournament. There will tion regarding the tournament. There will be three events, the championship sin-gles, doubles, and a consolation match, which will wind up the play of the sea-son. A large number of entries have been received by Mr. Whiting. The reputation of the players who will appear is an evidence that the sport will be of a high grade of excellence. It is customary for the tournament for

It is customary for the tournament for the District championship to be held on the courts of the Bachelors' Club, the foremost organization of its kind in Washington, and which bears about the same relation to local tennis that the New York Yacht Club does to yachting of an international character.

The tournament will be conducted under the rules of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, of which the Bachelors' Club is a member. Competent referees will officiate in all the matches. Interest, of course, centres around the championship singles. There are a number of aspirants anxious to meet Mr. Davidson in a struggle for the champion-Davidson in a struggle for the championship of the District. The winner will bear off the coveted championship trophy now held by Davidson. The trophy becomes the absolute property of any player who wins it three times. This match will be open to all comers. The winner will receive a sultable prize, as will the "runner up." The victor will play Mr. Davidson for the championship of the District.

Whoever wrests the honor of champion from Davidson will have accomplished a difficult task. He is rated easily the fastest player in Washington, and in some respects has few equals in the country.
During the past summer he won a number of important matches at tournan-ents spects has few equals in the country. During the past summer he won a number of important matches at tournaments in the North.

The gentlemen's doubles will bring together a number of pairs of fast racqueters. This event is also open. Suitable prizes will be awarded the winning teams. The closing event of the tournament will be the consolation match, open to all players who are defeated in the first match played in singles. All matches will be best two out of three sets, while the finals will be best three sets in five. Play will begin each day promptly at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The entries will close Saturday evening, September 28. They are now being received by E. E. Whiting, secretary and treasurer of the Bachclors' Tennis Club. The committee which has in charge the arrangements for the tournament consist of C. R. Wilson, John C. Davidson, E. E. Whiting, Dr. L. W. Glazebrook, and A. R. Adams.

The Bachelors courts are in excellent condition and are occupied nearly every day by a host of players getting themselves in shape for the hard contests next week. The annual District championship tournament is ever productive of keen rivalry. The coming event will be the fourteenth held in as many years. During that time some of the best players in the country have competed in the matches.

In some respects the sport reaches a higher grade than it does at the tournament for the Southern chambionship, usually held in the carly summer, although that classic event generally brings together players of national repute. The fall tournament finds the players in better physical condition after a summer of exercise and the play in consequence is often much faster.

Last spring the Southern tournament was conducted under extremely bad weather conditions. The tennis enthusiasts are praying for clear skies during next week.

Accommodations will be made for the seating of a large number of spectators at the Bachelors courts. All six of the courts will be in use during the progress of the tournament. The players will be paired

CRESCEUS STILL CHAMPION.

An Unsatisfactory Race With Scannell's Trotter, The Abbot.

BOSTON, Sept. 21 .- Cresceus is still the ndisputed trotting king of the world. At Readville this afternoon, in a race that was thrilling at times and bordering on a farce at others, George H. Ketcham's great stallion for the second time this season defeated The Abbot. The race was unsatisfactory and even disappointing, to say the least, yet Cresceus won in such a decisive manner as to leave no doubt as to his being the champion among trotters. In one of the heats The Abbot broke before he had gone 150 yards, while in another the word "go" had hardly been out of the starter's mouth when Mr. Scanneil's gelding was off his gait.

The time for the four heats did not even equal the time made yesterday by Lord Derby in the match with Boralma. The reason for this was the bad condition of the track, while both horses were far from being in good condition. In fact, Mr. Ketcham stated that Cresceus was not on edge and he judged that The Ab-bot was in the same condition. It was plain, even to the inexperienced, that pain, even to the indexpendent, that there was something wrong with Mr. Scannell's gelding. The Abbot made many had breaks. Prior to the last heat it became necessaary for Ed Geers, the driver of The Abbot, to place toe weights on his horse to prevent him from getting off his gait.

for the Abbot, to pace toe weights of his gail.

The weights worked miracles in the point sought, but when it seemed as if The Abbot would win the heat he tired while in the lead and had to give way to the powerful stallion. The reason ascribed for this sudden exhaustion was the weights put on to steady the gelding.

The only heat won by The Abbot was the second. This was a thrilling race from the start to the finish. Cresceus took lead at the word and for the first quarter opened a gap of two lengths, but when the horses got straightened out on the backstretch, inch by finch The Abbot moved up, and after they passed the half-mile post The Abbot went to the front, and, with a wonderful burst of speed, finished with a good lead. The form shown by the gelding was splendid. He moved with such case and grace that would lead one to believe he was a sure winner of the match.

The verformance of Cresceus, from start one to believe he was a sure winner of the match.

The performance of Cresceus, from start to finish, was splendid, and under the conditions it was sufficient to show that in all kinds of conditions he was the peer of them all. Not once during the four heats did he break, and his exhibition of gameness and speed displayed in the last heat, when he satched victory from The Abbot, was wonderful.

Local Bowling Teams Preparing for the League Season.

Annual Fall Games at Baltimore-Y. M. C. A. Will Send a Team-Morton Cadets in Athletics-Georgetown's Pootball and Track Contests.

The bowling enthusiasts of Baltimore open early and close late. Already the captains of the various league teams are getting their men together for the season of 1901-1902,

The annual league meeting and election of officers took place last week and at that meeting several changes were made in the method of conducting the contests. As a member of the National Bowling Congress the Baltimore Bowling League will adopt the rules of that body. The teams will secure sanctions for their al-leys from the national body, such sanction being given without cost to the own-ers of alleys. This will insure regulation alleys, as well as pins. All records will be sent to the national secretary and will become official. A corps of official um-pires will be selected and there will be a set of "pin judges," whose duties will consist of seeing that the pins are prop-consist of seeing that the pais are property set.

The league will start off with twelve teams. It had ten last year.

In this city steps have been taken toward a reorganization for the season at hand, but no definite plans have been inid as to the makeup of teams and as to time of opening the season, game-officials, etc.

Duffy became world beaters and holders of national and international records in sprint events.

Capt C. M. Barry, of the football team, is in town, and is already busy with the work preliminary to getting out his football team. He is fortunate in having on hand a majority of last year's team, and if he can get together enough good men to fill out the required number he will have little trouble in getting out a team which will be at least as good as last season's very successful eleven, which was a remarkable one, considering that it was comparatively entirely new when the season opened.

Captain Barry will again play halfoack. Devlin, who played one of the backs, and played the position very cleverly, will be missed.

The entering class is very large this season, and it is said that there is a quantity of good material from which to replenish or build up the team, and if it turns out well the blue and grey will have a winning eleven sure.

Manager of Football O'Donnell has scheduled a number of good games, including one for Thanksgiving Day with Lehigh, and with University of Virginia for November 18, and with Annapolis for October 21.
